Relation of Recent Military Changes to the Coming Election.

MEETING OF CONGRESS IN INDEPENDENCE HALL.

Action of the Senate on the Appropriations Bills.

PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

THE RECENT MILITARY CHANGES AND THE COMING POLITICAL CONTEST-THE PRESIDENT PREPARING FOR A PAIR ELECTION.

The recent order of the War Department discontin-ning the military division of the South and forming the Atlantic Southern States into a department to be commanded by General Ruger, lately commandant at West Point, puzzies the politicians here. There are people who see in it the beginning of a scheme to affect Southern elections, and reports are current of intended to place men of extreme views in power down there, with a view to stirring up trouble. There is probably no truth in these reports. General Ruger is not an extreme man, but an officer of moderate

There is no doubt, however, that the President means to spare no pains to enforce every law of Congress bearing on elections, not only in the South, but elsewhere. These laws relating to federal elections and to Federal Supervisors, and are very complete. They require the United States Cirthe marshals to appoint special deputy marshals to prevent fraudulent registration as well as voting and to maintain order at the polls, and there is a disposition to enforce these laws with great care in November. to have a fair election and that he means to do whatever be can, by the removal of inefficient or inactive office holders and the substitution of active and sealous republicans, to make the party compact and harmo-

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, June 26, 1876. PROPOSED MEETING OF CONGRESS IN INDE-PENDENCE HALL ON THE FOURTH.

The joint resolution offered by Mr. Kasson that the two Houses of Congress shall on Satur-day adjourn to Philadelphia and there meet in regular session at noon on Tuesday next, July 4th, 1876, in Independence Hall, has captured the fancy of everybody and will doubtless be adopted. It was referred to the Committee on the Centenof which Mr. Hopkins, of Pennsylva-is Chairman. Mr. Hopkins says to-night that the project of having Congress reassemble in In-dependence Hall exactly 100 years after the historical Fourth of July, 1776, was already under consideration by the committee in connection with an in-ritation by the Centennial Commission, which was to have been extended within a day or two, and has been low anticipated by Mr. Kasson's resolution. This invitation will be given all the same, and will doubtless atimulate the prompt adop-tion of the resolution. Mr. Hopkins further says that the reassembling of Congress in Independence Hall would have to be a formal and short ceremony, owing to the contracted space of the old apartment and its occupation with historical relics, but the exertises could be immediately transferred to the inclosure of Independence square and conducted in the open tir. This proposed session of Congress would make a scene as worthy of transferring to canvass as the famous historical painting of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

THE ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL AS IT PASSED THE SENATE-CONDITION OF THE OTHER AP-PROPRIATION BILLS.

The House bill making appropriations for the sup-port of the army for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1877, finally passed the Senate to-day in the following shape :- All those parts of it contem tion were stricken out because, according to the view appropriation bill, and, as Senator Morton said:-"If e committee could consider the reorganization of army and all other branches the service they would soon absorb everything the way of legislation." The only amendment made to the bill was offered by Senator Maxey, of fexas, providing that three cavalry regiments be repany, and kept as nearly as possible in Texas for the protection of the border. The bill as it passed the senate is, as compared with the bill of last year, $372,000 less. The latter was too small by $665 paragraph of the latter was too small by $000,000, by which a deficiency bill had to be passed. The present bill, as it now is, it is claimed, a $1,374,680 less than what has been appropriated forthe current fiscal year ending June 30, 1876. The net additions to the bill as it passed the House will foot up $3,378,200. It will now go to the printions, and if not favorably reported by them be so announced to the House, and on it then a conference committee will be asked. The Sundry Civil bill will be reported to and passed by the Senate this week, and then every appropriation bill will be in conference. House have reduced every other bill by millions, they save only brought the former down some $800,000.

SENERAL WASHINGTON DESPATCHES

WASHINGTON, June 26, 1876. ME CENTENNIAL FOURTH-PROCLAMATION BY

THE PRESIDENT. The following was issued to-day by the President of the United States of America;-

The centennial anniversary of the day on which the people of the United States declared their right to a separate and equal station among the powers of the earth seems to demand an exceptional observance. The founders of the government at its and the protection of a Divine Providence, and the thirteen colonies and 3,000,000 of people have expanded into a nation of strength and numbers commanding the position which then was asserted and for which fervent prayers were offered. It seems fitting that, on the occurexistence as a pation, a grateful acknowledgment be made to Almighty God for the protection and the bounues which He had vouchsafed to our beloved country. i therefore invite the good people of the United States, on the approaching the day of July, in addition to the usual observances with which they are accustomed to greet the return of the day, further localities and religious associations may be most con ings which have been bestowed upon us as a nation during the centenary of our existence, and humbly to

UMBRELLAS AND COOL DRINES IN DEMAND-

SCENES IN THE STREETS -SUNSTROKES. Yesterday was, beyond question, the hottest day yet experienced in New York this season. From early mora until almost sundown there was but one expression heard—a general complaint of the heat. The streets presented a somewhat deserted appearance. brellas were called largely into requisition, and had it not been for the flerce sunlight and the almost unrain storm was in progress. Both ladies and gentle men turned out in the thinnest of their summer costumes, and even presented a most uncomfortable ap-

Scarcely a ripple of breeze during the midday hours was to be found, and the little there was seemed but to make the heat greater, for it fanned the face like a it was all the same. Fans and other contrivances were all alike, the temporary relief obtained from their use to put them into practical operation.

On the docks and other exposed places, where no shade could be found, work was almost abandoned, such necessary work as was obliged to be done being carried on at the risk of sunstroke.

The demand throughout the city for all kinds of cooling drinks was enormous. The barrooms where, as a rule, nothing but strong drinks are sold, were completely deserted. The drug stores and other emportums where sods water and syrups were dispensed were, on the contrary, very busy. Even the restaurants failed to do their usual business, for their customers found it too hot to est. "Something cool to drink" was the universal cry.

found it too hot to eat. "Something cool to drink" was the universal cry.

Toward five o'clock the heat moderated and a gentle breeze from the southwest came up. The change was welcome to the throngs of suffering humanity who were wending their way homeward.

The journey homeward in the cars was a terrible ordeal, but yet it had to be undertaken, for even the vapor bath endured was preferable to a long walk on the hot flagstones. The comparative coolness which came with the shades of night was welcomed by all.

The following table shows the temperature yesterday at Hudnut's, together with that of the corresponding

A man giving his name as Henry Bianqard, a native of France, who was found in a fainting condition on Montgomery street, was sent New York.

Coroner Ronau yesterday evening commenced the inquest on the bodies of Louis Nuess and Charles Segal, the two boys who were killed at the explosion. Jacob Van Cleef, one of the injured ones, testified that Rohrenback, the assistant foreman who died from his injuries, was often drunk, and on the aiternoon of the explosion was much intoxicated. Elizabeth Herman, Henry Behren, Mary Shultzer, William Guinebert and Louise Burgess, also sufferers from the explosion, gave corroborative testimony as to the carelessness of Rohrenback in smoking in the building, but did not charge him with causing the disaster. Cornelius, Charlotte and Henry Schmidt, who were injured, will be examined to-morrow. Mr. Wolff, the owner of the shattered building, was not placed on the stand, and the witnesses who were examined were unable to throw any light on the cause of the explosion, although from the tenor of their testimony they believed that the assistant foreman's carelessness was the cause of it.

TERRIFIC HURRICANE.

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS AND INJUST TO CROPS.

PORTAGE, Pa., June 26, 1876. This vicinity was visited on Saturday afternoon by a terrific thunder storm, which struck terror into the hearts of the people living is this village and the out-skirts, many of whom fled to the fields for protection skirts, many of whom fled to the fields for protection from an anticipated hurricane. Fortunately the force of the wind passed to the south following the course of the high hills, and mowing a swath among the trees where the woods intervoued as if it had been grass before a remper. But while the village was fortunately not in the direct path of the hurricane, a wind strong enough TO UNKOOF HOUSES, remove others from their foundations and tear trees from their roots passed over the place. The streets were filled with brick from fallen chimneys, portions of roofs, boards of all kinds and branches and trunks of trees. Whole fields of grain almost ready to cut were prostrated.

Singularly enough not a single life was lost in all this terrible storm, and but little bodily injury sustained.

descended from a comparatively clear sky and stretched the two girls seaseless upon the carth. One, the eldest, twenty years of age, was killed our right, and the other was shocked into insensibility for an hour or more, but was linelly restored to consciousness. The sun was snining brightly at the time and only an ordinary cloud was seen overhead and the mutterings of thunder heard in the distance. Not a drop of a rain fell in the entire neighborhood during the day.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Bosrox, Mass, June 26, 1876. A large barn in East Medway, Mass., owned by Samuel Davis, was struck by lightning yesterday and burned The loss is $4,000, insurance $2,000.

James Goodall, a quarryman, at West Quincy, Mass., was killed by lightning yesterday.

A MILL AND VESSEL STRUCK. GLOUCESTER, Mass., June 25, 1876. During a severe storm last night a mill at West Glo cester, owned by A. Haskell, was struck by lightning and destroyed. Loss $3,000.

The schooner H. P. Chase, in the harbor, was also struck and jost her foremast. William Woodbury, one of the crew, was instantly killed.

admirers of this talented family to the theatre, in spite of the intensely hot weather. The change, if not for the better, is one that may be characterized by the word "novelty." for the reason that the piece has never before in this city been produced in such a complete manner. The three sisters, Rosina, Victoria and Jessie, and one brother, Fred, made an immense hit in the piece, while the second brother, Fawdon, was evidently intended to fill in. The piece is of a more ambitious kind than "The Belles of the Kitchen," and is still constructed on the principle of giving the Vokes lamily an opportunity to display their comic talents to the best advantage. They made quite a hit with it at the Fifth Avenue Theatre a few sessions ago. The piece was proceeded for an hour and a half by Mr. Stoddari in the stupid play, "The Post Boy." Considering that the summer patrons of the Union Square Theatre go to see the Vokes family, it is pretty hard on them to be obliged to sit out one hour and a half of a stupid play before this talented family appear.
